SIXTEENTH WEEK OF TRIAL.

Cross-examination of the Defendant Continued.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The attendance today was large that of yesterday, and many ladies were present. Plaintiff and defendant were in their places. Beecher took the stand as the witness stand, and his cross-examination continued. He testified: After a night's reflection, I do not regret Tilton's making the mortgage on my wife. I said to Tilton that when ever Tilton's friends were doing anything in this way to me, I was so much as to say to him that I was not a party to it, and I did not object to it. I said to Tilton that I was not a party to it, and I did not object to it. I said to Tilton that I was not a party to it, and I did not object to it.

CHARGE OF IMPROPER PROPOSALS.

against me, except in a general way. He repeated these charges to me as much as he could, and I did not object to it. I said to Tilton that I was not a party to it, and I did not object to it. I said to Tilton that I was not a party to it, and I did not object to it.
